WELCOME TO THE VOICE OF THE TURTLE MOUNTAINS

8. Community Representation Statement

Our station is located on the Turtle Mountain Chippewa Indian Reservation, and much of our programming is directed to the needs of our Native population. We work with others in our community including our local & surrounding schools, and College, to promote education through educational programming.

We broadcast Native news and music programs including native traditional & contemporary music, and native language programs – highlight local music and culture – air Tribal Council meetings – and promote all community, and area events and Tribal programs, and various organizations events through programs, on-air Public Service announcements, live broadcasts of area events, and interviews.

Local programs we produce are ‘Turtle Mountain Language project’ featuring oral lessons on our native language; ‘Back At The Ranch’ featuring cowboy poetry, and western music; and ‘That’s my story’ featuring educators, school children, and other community members reading a children’s story book.
